

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Sterol derivative compounds, structurally related to natural compounds which can be extracted from bull testes and from human follicular fluid, useful for regulating meiosis in oocytes and in male germ 5 cells. Some of these compounds are useful in the treatment of infertility, whereas other compounds are useful as contraceptives.